FOREWORD

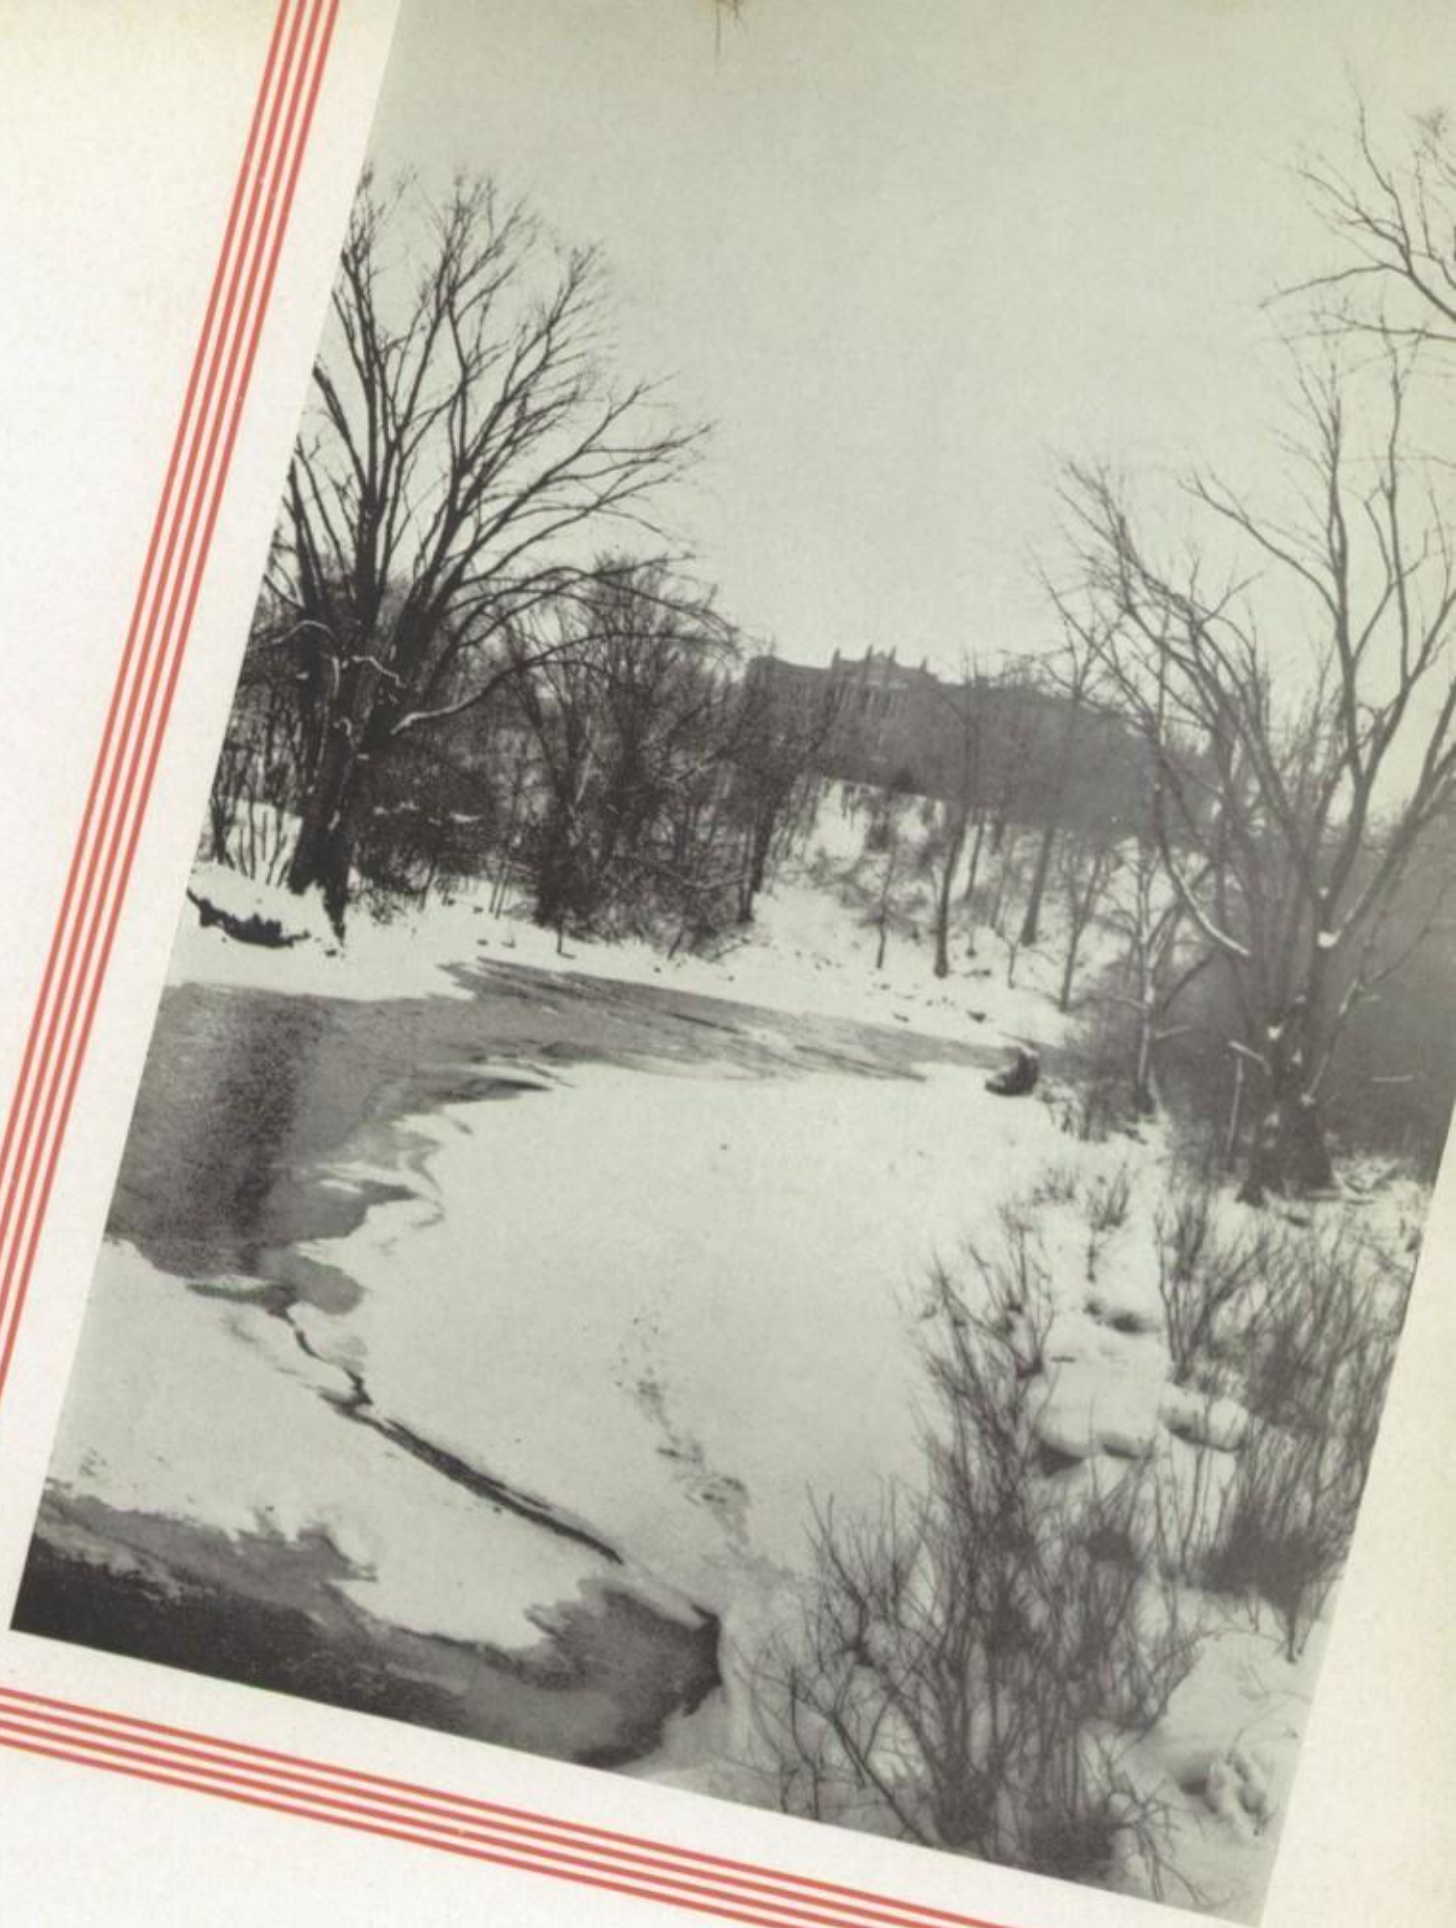

FOR each passing generation of students the winding Canadaway has held a mysterious fascination. Whether it has been the lure of its deep holes to spear fish, its shallows in which to wade in the spring, or its swinging bridge of romantic memory, the creek has played an important part in the lives of those near it. Over this stream have come students and teachers daily on their way to the School-on-the-Hill, not merely to absorb knowledge for the enrichment of their own lives, but to give as well to the service of others.

Perhaps it is the historic aspect of the Canadaway that has created the fancy for it, for it was near its banks that the first settlers of what is now the village of Fredonia came to make their homes. Since that time the Canadaway has not changed; it is only the settlement around it which has changed — not in feeling toward the stream, but in growth. As time passes the memory of the school and the community on the banks of this gently winding stream will grow more cherished. It is the hoped of this year's annual staff that the 1942 "Hill-topper" will help to keep fresh the memories of school days "ALONG THE WINDING CANADAWAY."

THE SWINGING BRIDGE OVER THE CANADAWAY

lage in its winter aspect.

MRS. CLARA B. SMITH

DEDICATION

THROUGH her years of teaching at the school ALONG THE WINDING CANADAWAY, Mrs. Clara B. Smith has shown a deep and lasting interest not only in her immediate duties as a teacher, but also in every organization in which she has had a part. Everyone is acquainted with her friendly smile and gracious manner, and recognizes her complete and generous loyalty in whatever she undertakes. Therefore, we, the class of 1942, wish to dedicate this "Hilltopper" to Mrs. Smith, and in doing so, to extend our thanks to her for helping guide us through our high school days.

MESSAGE

THE 1942 Hilltopper represents the cooperative effort of many helpers. Staff, advisers, students, faculty, Parent-Teacher Association, Board of Education, Fredonia Censor, advertisers and many others aid in the project. Can we not see in this effort the attainment of a working democracy? More schools everywhere are developing democratic processes. The aim is to encourage boys and girls to assume all the social responsibility for which they are ready. In the preparation of the annual a program of loyal citizenship, cooperation and democratic living is emphasized and practiced. Our motto may well be "We build for Democracy".

BOARD OF EDUCATION

*H*OW incomplete is our record if we fail to recognize the tireless efforts of our Board of Education! This group of citizens is always thoroughly interested in the progress of the local schools. Their helpful cooperation is greatly appreciated. The news of the recent resignation of Mr. Max Harris, President, was heard with deep regret. Students, teachers, parents, the whole community, recognize the loss the village has sustained. His eighteen years of loyal service have seen many constructive changes in buildings, grounds, equipment, personnel, and curriculum. We join in wishing him continued happiness and success as he enters new fields of service.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

*D*URING the four years of the Class of 1942 the Parent-Teacher Association has been constantly alert to opportunities to aid in curriculum growth. The film projector, the loud speaking system, the program of awards and prizes are only a few of the projects sponsored by the group. Last year it was largely their effort that made possible the purchase of the three and a half acres of land west of the building. This land promises much in attractive landscaping. It furnishes additional space for play activities and provides for autoists and pedestrians a safe exit to Chestnut Street. We thank our friends whose highest aims are to help, to serve, and to build.

NINETEEN HUNDRED FORTY-TWO marks the second year that a Post Graduate Class has been represented in the yearbook. Perhaps our appearance here is due to the fact that this year's class has taken an active part in the life of the school.

But consider our talents! There are — Ruth Van Scoter who spends her leisure time planning and making original and distinctive jewelry; and "Pete" Peterson who expects his pension after ANOTHER post grad year; and Bill Larson who advocates bigger and better socials with "Larson's Lyrics"; and Marie Hassett who is a Student Council representative no less, and "Wini" Ellis, "Squeege" Noble, and "Tiz" Lowell, gifted with that talent known as artistic ability, and personality appeal too; and Burton Washburn who seems to spend most of his time outside of school, and last but not least Joyce Weidmaier who took the final step by marching to the altar to the tune of "Here Comes the Bride".

Should not such outstanding abilities deserve representation in a yearbook?

SCHOLASTIC HONOR STUDENTS

CLASS 1942

WHEN the scholastic honors were announced in February, it was learned that this class is unique in being the first in the history of FHS to have twelve pupils with a Regents average of 90 or above for three and one-half years of academic work. These pupils, together with the class officers, will have charge of the traditional class night exercises in June.

THE Junior Class of 1941-'42, now accustomed to its new rank as an upper-class, looks back upon three happy and well spent years at FHS, and looks forward with great pleasure to next year when it will proudly step up into the place of highest honor to assume the duties and cares of a typical senior class.

Thus far we have quite well prepared ourselves, individually and as a class, for such responsibilities by indulging in a diversified program of activities. We, as a class, have been taken up in the social whirl of the school as well as in the instructive classes, and have entered wholeheartedly into various clubs and activities organized to develop a well balanced personality. We have given the dance fans a fine prom . . . one worthy of much praise, because of the many long hours of work that went into its preparation. No less in importance was our eager participation in the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds. During the sale everybody seemed to be able to scrape up money, if only in small amounts, to invest in this vital undertaking. Nevertheless such success and enjoyment as was ours as a class could not exist without some sorrow. This grief came to us at the sudden death of one of our most loved classmates, Raymond Gworek.

However underneath our pride in our accomplishments as a class, we are just juniors, fun loving, scornful of freshmen, tolerant of sophomores and seniors, and a hard (?) working group of boys and girls with our heads in the clouds and our feet in the AISLES.

I love you

HERE we are — conceited sophomores. Last year we were "horses of a different color" — green! Even though we knew little about school functions, we roamed about with a happy look on our faces. However, now we are burdened with such great problems as geometry, Latin II, and history A. For how long? Who knows?

But the class of 1944 will continue to move ahead — on land, in the air, and on the sea. For proof of this claim we show you musicians, club members, scientists, literary workers, and social climbers. In fact, if we decide to enter into radio work, we will be known as the "Solid Sophomore Swingers," no little accomplishment in itself. Although the Sophomore Prom was not a huge financial success, it will go down in the record as an undertaking which contributed much to the social status of the school. Added, to this undertaking, of course, we took a commendable part in aid for defense, along with every other class.

Just think, next year we will be able to drive to school (maybe) — PEDESTRIANS, BEWARE!!! Added to this will be our developing ability in the field of sports. The class has indulged in sports activities this year, yes, but next year will give rise to a new lot of grid and court stars.

All in all our class is pretty swell, and so, dear reader, to let you move on to the freshman page more rapidly, the sophomores end their page with a salute to the class of '42.

Remember science class Paul

Dear Reader,

WE would like to introduce you to the Freshman Class of 1942. We feel that this is quite necessary, since the usual freshman class does not become acquainted with the students as readily as do the other classes.

As freshmen run, we tended to lean a little toward the extraordinary side. Why? Well, being new in the school did not hinder us any from entering boldly into many social activities — boys' and girls' glee clubs, band, stage crew work, dramatic club, and airplane club. The long hours we spent in doing work for these organizations and the utmost loyalty they demanded on our part proved our mettle. Along with our hard work as members of these clubs is the fact that our Freshman Social netted us more than twenty-five dollars — almost the highest amount ever accredited to a freshman class at FHS. We found this fund a very vital factor in financing several small enterprises we undertook during the year. Then, too, this class lived up to the expectations of the school by taking an active part in the purchasing of Defense Bonds and Stamps.

This discussion will give you some idea of what our accomplishments have been and what the prospects are for the future.

We hope that during our remaining three years in high school we will be able to continue to do for the school what we have begun this year.

Yours truly,

EIGHTH GRADE

MRS. ETHELYN McLAREN
MISS BERTHA RUSSO
Faculty Advisers

*y*OU have visited the Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, now I should like to acquaint you with the eighth graders.

Our pupils, are divided into two sections — Section I under the supervision of Miss Russo and Section II under Mrs. McLaren, who has been ill for several months, during which time Mrs. Moore substituted.

The grade has participated in aiding in the present situation. We have joined hand in hand with every American in buying Defense Bonds and Stamps by sacrificing money formerly spent on weekly movies. This action not only showed fine American spirit but also proved us capable of becoming worthy citizens of tomorrow. We have collected money for the Red Cross and many wish to start a Junior Chapter of the organization in order to do further work.

This has been a year long to be remembered for it was the first time eighth graders have been represented in the Student Council.

This draws to a conclusion our little chat. Remember, this grade will be the Seniors of '46. Keep your eyes on us, for we are going places.

THE Fredonia High School Chapter of the National Honor Society, newly chartered last year, is an organization to promote character, scholarship, leadership, and service in the student body.

The young chapter had a difficult task before it. There was much uncertainty within its ranks due to the inexperience of the members concerning how the chapter should function. Attending a National Honor Society Conference at the Amherst Central School in Snyder last year, the local delegates contributed little but learned what other chapters were doing in other schools.

In the early part of February, the faculty chose eight new senior and four new junior members, who were promptly inducted into the society at a special chapel program. The officers used an elaborate "tapping" ceremony, the first of its kind to be performed in the history of the school. This public induction service, worked out by our superintendent, through whose efforts the chapter was established, was conceded the most impressive program of the year. The chapter has been invited to Forestville High School to repeat the service for the new members of their society.

STUDENT COUNCIL

MR. C. R. DYE

MRS. CLARA SMITH

Faculty Advisers

FOR four consecutive years the Student Council has played an important part in school activities. Besides arranging the social program of the school for the year, cooperating with the Parent-Teacher Association, assisting at school programs, and performing other similar duties, the Student Council acted as a jury trying all persons who were guilty of tardiness.

This year's group was the first in FHS history to join the National Association of Student Councils.

To raise money for necessary expenses the Student Council sold hamburgers at the football games. This activity not only proved a financial success, but it also supplied a long felt need for this particular kind of service at games.

A new method of choosing Council members was inaugurated at the beginning of the year. Eight members were selected from the senior class, six from the junior class, four from the sophomore class, two from the freshman class, and two from the eighth grade. These students, elected by their classmates for their qualities of leadership and service, together with two faculty members, who act as advisers, made up the Student Council.

The Student Council has become a vital part of the school program and acts in the interests of the entire student body.

THIS year marks the second anniversary of Fredonia High School's entry into the National Forensic League, an honor society for high school debaters and orators. It was founded in Albany High School in October 1924 with twenty-four chapters in fifteen states. Today there are 500 chapters in forty states.

Individual membership in the league is determined by active participation in interscholastic debating, or in oratorical, dramatic, poetic, or original declamation. Participation in any one of these events awards the student with a certain number of credit points. When the student has acquired twenty points he is eligible for membership and the degree of merit; with fifty points, the degree of honor; with one hundred, the degree of excellence, and if he has a total of 150 points, he is awarded the highest NFL degree, the degree of distinction.

Last year after six boys had won the privilege of attending the state contest, they emerged only one ballot short of being the state champions. Fredonia High School is proud of this organization and each of its present members is looking forward to even higher attainments in the future.

ALPHA HI-Y

MR. ARTHUR HARBISON,
Faculty Adviser

THE Alpha HI-Y, under the exceptional counsel and interest of its new faculty adviser, Mr. Harbison, completed another profitable year. The Alpha chapter has been constantly concerned in activities of a physical, spiritual, and social nature. A swim at the Jamestown Y. M. C. A. pool, basketball, scripture study, talks by authoritative individuals, representation at both the county and state Hi-Y Assemblies, and the management of a Hi-Y dance — all these activities indicate the scope of our interests. It is because of these activities that we feel that our organization has endeavored successfully to maintain the purpose of the Hi-Y; "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."

It is our sincerest wish that the Alpha Hi-Y of the future may attain the high standards of the present club.

*And God gives to every man

That lifts him into life, and lets him fall
Just in the niche he was ordain'd to fill.*

THE officers were inducted at the annual banquet last spring and have guided the Beta Hi-Y through its tenth successive year. The officers and members of the Beta Club have tried to maintain the purpose, "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

This year for the third time the Beta Hi-Y sent two members to the State Hi-Y Conference at Albany, New York. The purpose of the conference is to make better citizens of those attending and to acquaint them with the ways of the New York State Legislature. President Robert Bileske had the honor of escorting Governor Lehman to and from the speakers' stand when Mr. Lehman addressed the convention.

The Hi-Y has had many outstanding speakers this year including Preston Diedrich, Dr. Dawley of the Normal School, Mr. Martin of Forestville, Mr. Corter, Mr. Dye, Mr. Tallman, and Mr. Whitney of Fredonia.

In addition to the usual activities three baskets of food brought by members were distributed at Christmas. Many of the boys also volunteered for local defense work in helping the Telephone Company.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

MR. KEITH EMANUELSON,
Director

THIS year, 1941-'42, the Boys' Glee Club had an unusually large number of registrants. This was undoubtedly due to the fact that the club made a splendid showing last year in the Western New York Music Festival and at the State Contest.

The standard of this organization is set by the members of the preceding club, and each term that standard is seemingly raised. Since former members have worked hard in the past years, the boys of the present organization are forced to work to the best of their ability not only in perfecting their required numbers but also in maintaining discipline and good will in the ranks.

The Boys' Glee Club participated in many public performances: namely, church concerts, chapel programs, and commencement exercises, where they offered such songs as "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by Bach, "Accept Our Thanks" by Sibelius, "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp, "I Love Life" by Mana-Zucco, and George Gershwin's "I Got Plenty o' Nuthin'", plus the six contest numbers, which will be part of the Spring Festival program.

THE purpose of the Fredonia High School Girls' Glee Club is to create an enjoyment and understanding of choral music and to have a good time as a group. Under the capable leadership of the new director, Miss Snyder, the organization, having an enrollment of 51, realized this purpose and had a very successful year.

The initial performance of the Glee Club came in October when it appeared at the Normal School in a pageant put on for the entertainment of the Chautauqua County Teachers' Association.

During the Christmas season the club participated in a program for the Parent-Teacher Association. The program featured carol singing and a musical presentation of scenes of the Nativity.

The group also appeared in two evening concerts at the high school during the second semester.

To climax the year's work the Girls' Glee Club competed in the music contest at Hamburg. The organization was required to learn six songs, from which the judge selected three to be given. The contest differed this year from those of other years in that the competing organizations did not enter the local festival but went directly to the state contest.

ON THE HILL

MRS. BESSIE C. HANISER,
Faculty Adviser

SWAMPED with material to write and with completed write-ups to be proof read, the journalistic mind seems to function best. At least this has proved to be the case of the "On the Hill" staff members who have brought the school newspaper into the spotlight in our school life for the past four years. The story behind "On the Hill" is a story of hard work. Every member of the staff devotes much time each week to the making of the paper with its patter, personal items, sports write-ups, and news items. Nevertheless, the staff feels well rewarded for their time and efforts amid overflowing waste-paper baskets and clicking typewriters when they see the satisfactory results of each completed copy.

Every year "On the Hill" grows bigger and better, and every year more and more credit must be given to the untiring efforts of our faculty sponsor, Mrs. Haniser. Thanks must also be extended not only by the staff but also by the school as a whole to the Editor of the CENSOR for his cooperation and assistance in the continuance of this school project.

WHEN you see Miss Miller's car loaded with us, the FHS "Sketch-Kats", you may be sure that we are out for an adventuresome "sketching session", and that we shall polish it off with a good time on the social side!

A backward glance shows that this year's "Sketch-Kats" have been no exception to the outstanding reputation set for us by previous "Sketch-Kats". In fact, we have been unique in that the group which we form is a perfect "carload" for Miss Miller's Ford, our "Sketch-Kat Bus".

Our meetings have ranged from the annual sketching trip to the Fredonia Reservoir to a lecture presented at the Albright Art Gallery, and to several art exhibits at the Normal School.

Such a diversified Sketch Club program as we have enjoyed this year has proved appealing to all the "Sketch-Kats", as well as to the "Chief Sketch-Kat", Miss Miller. Our many thanks go to Miss Miller for her fine companionship and excellent leadership. To future "Sketch-Kats" we leave a high goal of success and good times for you to surpass — if you can!

LIBRARY CLUB

MISS ANNA SAXTON,
Faculty Adviser

THE Library Club, this year, with representation from each of the four years of high school, has been composed of thirty-nine members all eager to learn the function of the library. Under the leadership of the faculty adviser, Miss Saxton, each member has been given special instruction, one period each week, pertaining to the general care and management of the library. In January the club members participated in the National Victory Book Campaign to obtain reading material for the boys in different branches of the service. Through the help of the school they succeeded in securing 175 of Fredonia's quota of 600 books.

During the course of the year there have been several social functions in connection with the club's activities. On one of the evenings during the holiday season a Christmas party for the club was given by Miss Saxton. In February the club sponsored a Valentine party, in March a St. Patrick's party, in April a theatre party, and in May a picnic. As a whole, the Library Club has been successful both as a vocational and a social organization.

*P*ROBABLY no year has seen such a complete change of members in the Dramatics Club as has this year. However, this was no handicap to the organization which starred its new members in a large number of plays throughout the year. This was undoubtedly due to the fact that everyone took a deep interest in what such work had to offer.

Tears and laughs issued forth from the audience as their emotions were aroused during the performances of "His First Shave", "Some Days Are Like That", "Jimmy the Genius", and "The Prettiest Girl In Town". The talent of the club members reached its peak in the enactment of the three-act play, "The Kid". It apparently was exactly the type of entertainment everyone was waiting for, because it was well received by a responsive audience.

Stage work was not the only field in which the club members indulged. They proved themselves capable of doing other things also by sponsoring a successful social.

Since the success of the Dramatics Club was the result principally of Mrs. Hunt's excellent supervision, the members wish to express their sincere thanks to her.

BIRD STUDY CLUB

MR. GEORGE BELDEN,
Faculty Adviser

YOU undoubtedly have seen some member of the Bird Study Club meandering through the halls with a blank expression on his face and strange noises issuing from his mouth. There is no cause for alarm. The erstwhile whistler is merely trying to master the "trill", a hitherto elusive element of whistling. Remarkable skill has already been achieved by some devotees of the art of imitating birds calls, and further improvement is hoped for.

In addition to the work on the "trill", members of the club have appeared before high school assemblies and other groups this year, as has been the custom in previous years. James Tarbox, the star whistler, performed before the Bird and Tree Club of Chautauqua and at a Parent-Teacher Association meeting in Dunkirk. Different members appeared at a Masonic Lodge dinner in Ripley (where they found a third helping of turkey as tasty as the first), at an Orchard Park High School assembly, at a Kiwanis meeting and before a high school assembly in Gowanda. No plans as yet have been made for the Western New York Science Congress in which the Bird Study Club won prizes in 1940 and 1941.

SCIENCE CLUB

MR. ROBERT TALLMAN,
Faculty Adviser

OUR science club will go down in history; we're sure of it. As field trips and visits to industries were limited by "No Visitors — Defense Work" and "Save Your Tires", we branched out in other directions.

We experimented with bombs and found them as destructive as they're "cracked up to be". One member tried an incendiary in his stove at home. Of course, it gave off more heat than coal does, but what happened to the stove! The genius? Oh, he's still around, but experiments are now strictly limited to the lab.

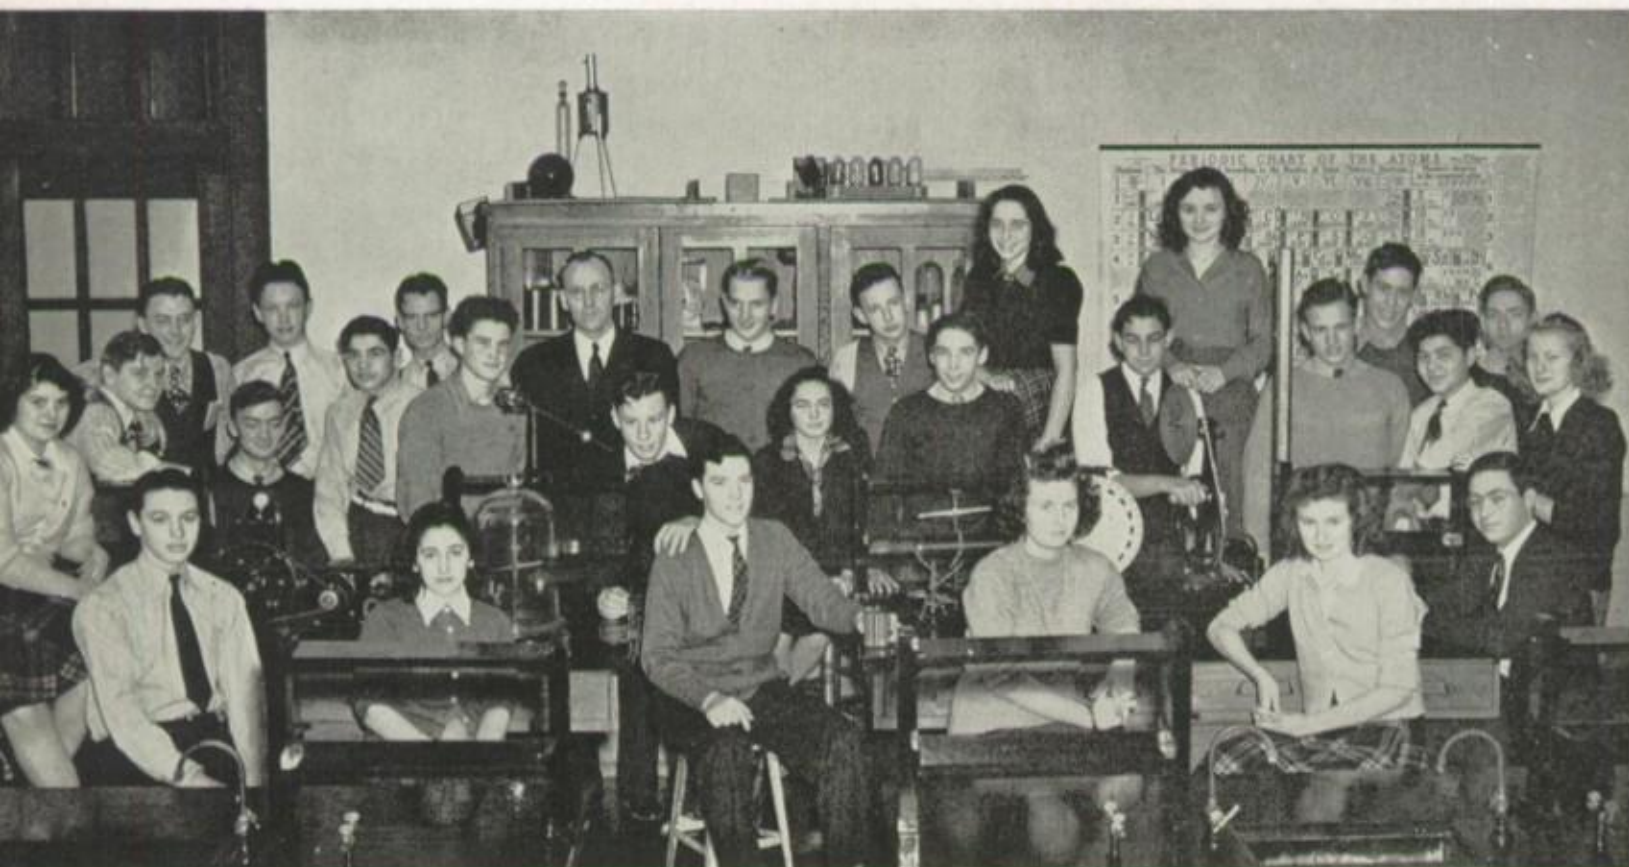

Then, too, our members became social butterflies and proved their versatility by giving one of the best socials of the year. Never let it be said that anything the Science Club sponsors doesn't go over big — in one way or another.

In May, we took part in the Science Meet at the Buffalo Museum of Science. Later with our work well done for the year, we celebrated with our annual picnic.

We have had fun this year and have learned much through experiments largely of our own planning. Will Mr. Tallman, our long suffering and patient adviser, ever be quite the same after he loses us?

DURING the school year 1941-'42 as in previous years, the Fredonia High School debating team continued to move forward on its road to forensic victory. A most timely subject was discussed. It was: "Resolved that every able-bodied male citizen should receive one year of full-time military training before reaching the present draft age."

Debating work for the first semester revolved around preparation of speeches, the practice of rebuttal, and the formation of a schedule. The second term found the team busily engaged in a long and difficult series of debates. At home our teams entertained visiting debaters from many schools, among them being the Kenmore, Orchard Park, Niagara Falls, Hamburg, and Amherst high schools.

Again this year our team was a member of the Eastern division of the Lake Erie Debating League, which is sponsored by Allegheny College of Meadville, Pa. In League competition our debaters were matched against the teams of Silver Creek, Jamestown, and Bradford high schools.

Although the forensic work is arduous, the debate club continues to enjoy great popularity and prestige, and membership in it is esteemed one of the outstanding honors at FHS.

THE SCHOOL BAND

MR. KEITH EMANUELSON,
Director

THE critical national situation has affected almost everyone and everything and the Band is no exception. Its services were demanded at a number of public programs including several parades in the interest of national defense. The Band also presented a concert which was well received. In early October during the Grape Festival the Band was in uniform twelve hours a day for three days. They served as the nucleus of the 100 piece Festival band which consisted of the best players from the Cassadaga Valley, Silver Creek, Westfield, Brocton, and Dunkirk High School bands. To this band, as to every other enterprise where his and the band's musical services were needed, Mr. Emanuelson devoted his unswerving efforts.

The high school musical contest system has been revised. Instead of concentrating upon two major numbers for the contest, each band chose six numbers to work on throughout the season. At the contest the officials choose one number and the band chooses another to play in order to secure a rating. In this way the music educators hoped to give the high school musician a more varied musical "diet" than in former years.

At the State contest in May the band won a rating of "one" and was judged "SUPERIOR". Several individual band members won high ratings as soloists.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

THE Fredonia High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Keith Emanuelson, was late in getting organized this year due to the extra demands made upon the FHS music department in connection with the Chautauqua County Grape Festival held in our village. After the intensive work during the Celebration was over, about forty-five students registered for orchestral work in response to Mr. Emanuelson's call.

At the initial meeting, the students decided that the organization should be conducted as a class for the study of light classics and program music, rather than one devoted only to preparation for participating in the State Contest, as has previously been the custom. The orchestra members discovered that they enjoyed playing this type of music. As a result they have shown a decided improvement both in performance and in musical appreciation.

Other orchestral activities included presentation of assembly programs, participation in the annual Spring Concert, and the provision of music for the commencement exercises.

The numbers studied by the orchestra were "God Bless America" by Irving Berlin, "The Ramparts We Watch" by Beecher, "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "Show Boat" by Kern, "My Beautiful Lady" by Caryll, and Sigmond Romberg's "Blossom Time"; and, in addition, the six contest numbers selected by the State Music Festival committee.

HEIGH Ho! Heigh Ho! It's off to work we go. Yes, it's the stage crew setting out to give generously to some group which is putting on an assembly program. The stage crew consists of members of the Home-making, the Fine Arts, and the Industrial Arts classes.

The Fine Arts Class got off to a good start by painting a professional-like stage "back drop" for the Christmas musical program, "Customs and Festivities of Christmas." Poster making formed another important phase of the work of the art pupils of this group.

The boys from the Industrial Arts Class undertook the task of making the partitions for the scenery of the play and doing the heavy construction work. They also did some painting and repairing jobs. Curtain pulling and the adjustment of the lights kept them busy during the enactment of the various plays.

The Homemaking Classes took care of the pressing and cleaning of all costumes used in public performances. If clothes needed to be repaired, these girls were the ones called upon. Then, too, for several years they have made curtains and draperies for scenes in plays.

Without these industrious and loyal workers our stage programs would be not the polished performances that they are.

UNDER the capable leadership of our faculty adviser, Miss Eunice Frisbee, and our president, Dorothy Drummond, the J'Ec-ers' Club had a very successful year. For our own pleasure we held a Christmas party in the gymnasium and enjoyed dancing and refreshments. Later we sponsored a dance which was enthusiastically supported and we also shared in many social activities which required the aid of our group in preparing and serving refreshments. Upon the shoulders of the Homemaking students in the club rested the responsibility of making out the menu, of purchasing the supplies, and of cooking and serving meals to the hungry, impatient students who, at noon hour during the winter months, sought our cafeteria.

With Miss Frisbee we made trips to Dunkirk where we visited the Glass Plant, the Dunkirk Laundry, and Cease's Commissary. The managers of these places were very helpful in showing us the behind the scenes "machinery" which keeps these establishments at the height of efficiency.

Our other activities included educational movies, first-aid work and craft work.

This club, composed solely of girls interested in Home Economics and related arts is a creditable addition to FHS extra curricular activities.

LEADERS' CLUB

MRS. MILDRED HUNT,
Faculty Adviser

THE Leaders' Club, an organization which sponsors all the girls' athletic activities and provides the letters for the girls participating in sports, has been advancing rapidly since its origination three years ago. It is today a successful girls' sport organization, promoting friendship among the girls engaged in the diversified sports program.

During the past years the group has taken part in the social whirl of the school. This year it caught the spotlight by sponsoring an amateur show which proved to be the biggest hit of the season not only in providing entertainment for its enthusiastic audience but by uncovering surprisingly clever talents. Again in front to break all records, the club put on a basketball game between the teachers and some of the members.

One question is prominent on the lips of all "Hillbillies": What will next year's club be like? We are convinced that next year's club will be a better and a more active club than has yet existed in the school and that it will carry on the high standards of the present organization.

The girls of the '41-'42 group wish to extend a hope for success and enjoyment to the future members of the Leaders' Club.

A FIFTY-MAN squad, including eleven lettermen, answered "Dinty" Moore's call for practice. Although hopes for a successful season were fostered by all, injuries and the loss of key-men resulted in a disastrous season.

The opening game was played on the newly-sodded local field. The FHS "gridders" outplayed the Westfield club but lost 2-0. During the following games, the "Hillbillies" were defeated by Falconer (28-0); Salamanca (19-0); and Gowanda, (20-0); while only registering a 6-0 victory over the Jamestown "B" team. Finally in the Silver Creek fray, a game to determine the holder of the uncoveted cellar position in the Southwestern Conference, a winning backfield combination was developed and the team lived up to its potentialities. Before this contest was over, Fredonia rolled up twenty points and held the "Black Raiders" scoreless. Everyone looked forward to an evenly matched Dunkirk game; however, Dunkirk played their best brand of ball and the "Hillbillies" fell apart under the terrific onslaught, the final score being 32-0 in favor of Dunkirk.

"Suzie" Rizzo and John Saccamana received the right guard and the center positions, respectively, on the All-Conference team. John Sahle secured a berth as left guard on the second team.

BASKETBALL

MR. WILSON J. MOORE,
Coach

THE Fredonia High basketball team suffered twelve defeats while chalk-ing up only two victories during the season. The unexpected 28-27 victory over Dunkirk was the only bright spot in the entire record.

In a summary of the players we would see Bill Smith... 6'2"... first string center... star of the first Dunkirk game... potential high scorer... appendectomy... Bob Bileske... "Butch"... varsity forward... one of the leading scorers... nice foul shot... good floor game... Don Faso... "Moe"... tricky passer... starting guard... a natural shot... short but dangerous... Art Miller... back guard... nice defensive... helped bring the ball down the court... aggressive... "Happy" Siracuse... played all positions... lots of fight... consistent... defense and offense... Hugh Woodcock... excellent forward... improved as season progressed... star of next year... high jumper... Sam Coniglio... known as "Rabbit" because of his speed... quiet but efficient... possible high-scorer of next year... Ardillo... efficient manager, probably will repeat performance next year... Crise... up and coming freshman... youngest on squad... sensation during early sessions... Bili Radloff, the team's relief man... future pivot... good hook shot... emotional player.

GIRLS' INTERCLASS SPORTS

THIS year the girls have indulged in many sports, but basketball took the limelight as it has in previous years. Basketball tests were given in gym classes to determine the natural skill of the girls and their ability to improve with instruction. Tuesday and Friday afternoons after school were set aside for the playing of intramural and inter-class games. In the intramural tournaments each team was composed of girls from different classes. This made competition keen because of the fact that all the experienced players were not on one team. Girls who acted as captains during the basketball season were Mary Bardo, Dorothea Schibetta, Loretta Leone, Beatrice Whalen, Patricia Wunder, Dorothy Zentz, Rose Aliamo, Ruth Seneca, Georgette Barone, Lorraine Cash, Bernice Toppliffe, Marian Castellana, Marian Flick.

Badminton, softball, soccer, kickball, and volleyball were also played in their respective seasons.

The girls who played after school were selected, according to classes, to take part in playdays out of town as well as in some sponsored by the Leaders' Club here at our own high school. During such events, the girls engaged in tournaments of all varieties. Playdays have encouraged and strengthened good sportsmanship among the girls.

CHEER LEADERS

READY? LET'S GO!

F-R-E-D-O-N-I-A — FREDONIA!

F for FIGHT
R for READINESS
E for EFFORT
D for DEFENSE
O for OFFENSE
N for NERVE
I for INITIATIVE
A for ACTION

THESE qualities are what the cheerleaders of '42 have helped to promote in the members of our athletic teams. The old stand-bys — Marjorie Read, Gertrude Rotunda, Sylvia Gugino, and Charles St. George — with the help of the newly chosen members, Kay Easling, Madalyn Spencer, Patricia Wunder, and Dorothy Emmerling, a remarkable combination of youngsters — put real spirit into both players and spectators of the '41-'42 season. In their newly acquired white corduroy suits with jackets trimmed with orange braid, the pretty cheerleaders often stole momentarily the crowd's attention from the players themselves.

Even though the cheerleaders knew that their team was often pitted against great odds, neither keen competition nor over-powering opponents in the least dampened their spirits. Through their loyal efforts, the FHS supporters were inspired to spur on the clubs for which they rooted. Prospects are bright for a spirited group in the coming year.

F.H.S. AND EDUCATION FOR VICTORY

SINCE the theme of the 1942 "HILLTOPPER" was worked out in the months before Pearl Harbor, it may seem to some of the readers of the early pages of our annual that we at Fredonia High School have lived this year in our own particular "Ivory Tower" sealed away from all the events taking place in the world about us. Such, however, is not the case. More than ever in the year that has gone have we as a school taken an active part in the all-out effort to help win the war. In the summary that follows, we will attempt to relate some of our war work and to show our adherence to an educational system that trains for effective citizenship and useful work in the post-war world.

Instead of giving the traditional gift to the school, the senior class at graduation presented a gift of twenty-five dollars to the China Relief Fund.

The sophomore class bought, with funds raised in excess of their regular expenses, a fifty dollar Defense Bond made payable to the class when they become seniors.

Junior and Senior Aviation Clubs were formed to build flying models to exact scale of 1-72 of various types of airplanes, both friendly and enemy, for use by U. S. Navy in the training of pilots.

School responded to Bond and Stamp Sale to the gross amount of $2200 to date.

Extra gymnasium periods were required for boys and girls in recognition of the vital part that health plays in the strength of the community.

Balanced meals were served to all undernourished children of the public school system.

Books for the armed forces were gathered to the total of 175 by the pupils of the village school.

Students of the speech classes gave talks before civic groups on phases of the world crisis and aspects of democracy.

The movie projector was used extensively to keep pupils informed of the progress in the industrial field and in world events.

About 150 Victory Gardens are in process of making, several of which are under cultivation by faculty members.

Nutrition and typing classes trained adults for war service.

Schools assisted in Evacuee survey — Issued 6210 war ration books during sugar rationing week.

FHS formed placement bureau to help young people gain temporary employment.

Teachers gave Community service . . . Milton B. Schafer, permanent chairman Chautauqua County Victory Garden Council . . . Supt. C. R. Dye, member of Advisory Board for Selective Service Northern Chautauqua County . . . Arthur Harbison in charge of model air plane building . . . Wilson J. The ADVERTISERS

*I*N OUR VILLAGE along the Canadaway there are many public spirited business men who through advertising in the "HILLTOPPER" express in a very substantial way their belief in education as a way of helping boys and girls to make the most of their natural abilities.

PRINTING

— of The Better Kind —

*T*HERE are so many things today that enter into the production of a modern job of typography.

It requires a modern plant equipped with up-to-the-minute machinery, material, and above all, those who know type and how to use it.

There are little "niceties" about spacing, selection of typeface, paper, color of ink and, of course, the design itself.

The trend now is toward "matching" stationery: Letter Heads, Bill Heads, Statements, Envelopes and Cards all follow the same general design. We shall be pleased to show samples and quote prices.

If it's Printing, a card or a poster, a tabloid or a ticket, see us first or telephone.

HOW YOU CAN SERVE !

One of the most serious shortages as the nation's war program accelerates is lack of competent Secretaries, Stenographers, Bookkeepers, Accountants and Office Machine operators. Good paying positions await those who are equipped through complete training to handle them.

April 9/43

An April 9 my best friend died. for weeks I could hardly wait for the day to come - for I was to give my monologue before the whole assembly! I gave it & it was a huge success. Mother was there but left before I had a chance to see her. That night after school I got home and talked about the monologue - and then at about 4:10 she told me - Gus had died. That morning he had had a fit which threw him into the air & then he died. Dad buried him & that's why mom could not. Even now I find a great emptiness in my heart. I miss the poor fella mostly at night. I catch myself looking out the window for him. I put a rock at the head of his grave and planted a tree over it. I hope the tree grows. I will never forget my 12 yr. old friend. I know nothing will ever take the place of my little Sussy. He was my first and only love. He understood me as I understood him. He was very ill before the end finally came. He seemed so tired. Now he sleeps - and will not be disturbed. He feels no pain but only a warm comfort - in death.

I dedicate this page to him - my best and only friend. May he rest peacefully in his new found haven - in heaven.
